THE END

This is the end of the original articles submitted to me for inclusion in the newsletter. As the editor of the newsletter I have made the decision that I will not copy type articles from magazines. Apart from the legal problems with copywrite, I believe that it is pointless for a newsletter that was created to be a communication medium for our club, to be used to simply repeat information that is available elsewhere.

If you find a good idea, and apply that idea in your own workshop then supply the details of the idea and how you used it for yourself. In those instances I will be more than happy to type up the report and include it in the newsletter.

There has been a common question asked of me over the last month or so. "When will the next newsletter be coming out?" My answer has generally been that I will produce a newsletter when I have some information to put in it.

Well here it is. The question that I have for the members is - Is it worth it? Ever since the club has started the editor has constantly appealed to the membership to supply information to put into the newsletter. It is clear that, like most of the work to be done to run the club, the general members expect these things just to happen, and the committee have an unending supply of both time and ideas.

KNOX FESTIVAL

Did YOU help the club and participate in the organisation, setting up, packing up, or spend a few hours helping on the display. It was another great couple of days with lots and lots of interest shown by the general public. The members who were there all seemed to have a great time.

A thankyou goes to Reg Dixon for the donation of an electric frypan and a small electric drill. Both these items will be put to good use both at the club and on future display activities.

MEETING DATES

General Meeting 1st Wednesday of each month (excluding January)
 Committee Meeting 3rd Wednesday of each month
 Practical Nights Every Wednesday Night
 Unemployed & Retirees - Thursday
 10:00am - 3:00pm.

Special Projects As arranged.

MEMBERSHIP LIST

There will be a Member List near the Notice Board. Please check to see if your name is on it and the details are correct. Please make any corrections or additions to the list so that we can get a full and up to date membership list.

CALENDAR

There was a request for a calendar of future meetings to be sent out with this newsletter. As the events are often set up with only a few weeks notice it seems more sensible to display a copy of the latest timetable on the notice board.
