President's Report – Hughie Gaynor.

Where has the time gone ?? -- It is hard to believe that a quarter of 2016 has already passed us by which suggests that the old adage of "The older you get the quicker times flies" appears to be correct. Despite this apparent conundrum, I am pleased to note that member attendance at all Workshop sessions and associated Club activities still remain at a constant high level.

Firstly, may I extend a big thank you to all members who volunteered their time to support all of the Club's activities (Raffle prizes, transport to/from, making kits selling raffle tickets and timber goodies and catering) at the Knox Festival in early March. Unfortunately, public attendance to Area A (the nominal Community Area) was down considerably and combined with their reluctance to part with dollars, resulted in a drop in revenue compared to previous years. Similar results were also experienced by a number of other Community Organisations in Area A and the consensus suggests that other Festival attractions either on or adjacent to the main ovals and our current location were the principal reasons for both the decline in public patronage and revenue.

Feedback has been provided to Council and we are hopeful that either additional signage or a change of location may overcome the issues encountered this year. As a Club we are indeed fortunate and grateful that the increased support by members in buying/selling raffle tickets helped to offset those impacts on expected revenue from the Festival. Well done !!!!!!!.

A very generous offer by a member (who currently wishes to remain anonymous) to donate 2 cedar slabs for the refurbishment of our Club Signs will keep Eric Butterfield and his many helpers in the Projects area busy within the next few weeks.

The Committee have recently approved subscriptions to 3 leading woodworking magazines for member's enjoyment. These will be left on the lunch table and over time the older/outdated versions currently in the Library will be offered to members who wish to give them a new home.

Al Fresco area – A number of recent discussions with a number of Council Officers has resulted in "practical agreement" being reached on our proposal to install a deck complete with 2 large sail cloths to beautify the area which was more commonly referred to as the ugly duckling or dead area of the Club's premises. Quotations and specifications are currently being worked on and when submitted to Council, it is expected that formal agreement will be forthcoming shortly.

In the interim we are anxious to hear from any member who has the skill/talent/ideas how the current existing blank wall of the Toy Shed could be painted/enhanced with a mural to compliment these improvements.

As a consequence of the above Project, the former Festival Shed has been progressively transformed into a dedicated painting booth for associated Club Projects. Opportunity was also taken to reduce the number of paint treasures in the small shed outside the wood turning area and in that regard John Jackson and John Darcy combined their consummate skills to arrange the legal and orderly disposal of lots and varieties of paint tins.

The Trivia Night has been set down for 14th May so make sure you see Karen Button asap, to book your table. As per previous years, a light supper will be served and it will be a BYO drinks and nibbles function, along with having the grey matter switched on to win some great prizes.

Last but not least – If you have some spare time on Saturday 9th April from 8am don't be shy come and help Club fellow members give the Club Rooms/Machine Shop a good clean and polish at a Working Bee

Typical questions we get about joining the Club

The many emails/calls we receive enquiring about what is involved in joining the club. Some usual questions are:
 - Can we teach? No. we can't, we are not allowed to. But we share a great lot of experience with fellow members.
 - Are there other lady members? Sure are – we have plenty. Age, gender, occupations and team preferences are of no issue with 'Woodies'. We're just crazy about wood! Last count we had 25 fine lady members out of the overall 200 at the club. We've seen a 50% increase in recent years of lady members, when overall growth was 25%.
 - What age groups come? Well, our Secretary has worked out some nice statistics on that. 29% are aged 45-65, 43% are 65-85. We have some younger, and older! So there's a wealth of enthusiasm, and experience here!
 - How do I find out about what the club is like? Drop in on a meeting night (1st WED of the month) or when the club is open, We love showing visitors how to become members! Refer NEWSLETTER last page for open times.

Elizabeth II Dresser "extract" (built and written by Phil Spencer)

After building my George III clock (see AW March/April 2013) I decided that to show the clock off I needed a table for it to sit on, I originally thought that the table should be of a similar period.

When I started out I researched the 17th century period and set out to imitate that, then at the oncology department at Moorabin hospital I spotted a Victorian period table with some carved panels on the top of the legs I liked that so I decided to include something similar, I was going to leave the edges square on the table top, but then I had this router bit that gave a nice filleted edge so I decided to use that and I think the edge on the table top looked a bit Queen Ann. So I decided that as the table had a few periods mixed in I would call it an Elizabeth II period table, as Queen Elizabeth was crowned the year I was born I thought it fitting.

I also wanted to use standard sized dressed timber that was readily available so I chose Red Oak which I found my local Masters store stocked. My reason for standard readily available timber was to show that one did not need a workshop full of machinery and tooling to make nice furniture. I could not find suitable draw pulls in Australia so I ordered the draw pulls on line from Horton Brass in the US (http://www.horton-brasses.com/).

I started researching, sourcing materials and making sketches in January 2014 and started the build in June 2014. Having tried to master Sketch up I reverted to the medium that I know and started making sketches and drawings with a pencil and paper, I find that this lets my creativity flow better, and I would rather be building something in the shed.

Merek Gehrman has donated double-sided tape

On Tuesday evening 5th April, I will drop 3 rolls. Anybody can help themselves. I used for many application but for inside out turning is a great help. In the past I left few rolls and appears the guys must have found usage for it. On Tuesday evening I will drop 3 rolls.

Nice thought Merek!

Bill's WEBSITE of the Month!

Bill Ireland is getting some fine assistance from like minded woodies who find information on the web. There is a lot of interesting information there but I think a lot of the terms and descriptions are very English, but I think they would still be worth making the web site available to our members. Knewbie: Ron Bean uncovers nostalgic "Alf" TILE

Ron shares: "Just moved to Boronia and are now able to come to the club, I live adjacent to the Tim Neville Arboretum. A while ago I was looking at the art path which consists of many tiles of 'art' made at the Knox Festival in 1991, and came across the tile "Wood is Best" done/signed by "Alf". I don't know much about the history of the club, but I have wondered if there could be a connection here with the founder of the club:- Alf Stephens.

Gary replied: Well, let me promote the rumor that you allege.... Because I think you're on the money here. I called Alf's wife, Nancy, today, to see what we can make of your question. She can't specifically remember it or recall anything about it. But, these tiles were all made on the property that the Knox Woodies club shares with the Council. [Placemakers]. The tiles were made in a pottery furnace there, and no doubt, Alf might have popped in to leave his finger marks in one as shown.

I'm prepared to vouch the high probability that you've unearthed another "Alf" special here.[Ed]

The Club thanks

Riversdale Ropes donates vital toy-making items

Bryan Featonby is the owner operator of a business called Riversdale Ropes (Noble Park) - Phone: (03) 9548 2404. After our President, Hughie, contacted him inquiring about the availability of quoits and hookey board rings for our Christmas toys and gifts he came out to the Club. At a Meeting/Greeting with Albert, Jacko and Hughie, to give him a heads up on what we do, he was obviously impressed and he has kindly donated 6 sets of quoits and sufficient rings and hooks for 20 Hookey Boards. A terrific donation for this annual production line the Club makes for Xmas presents for needy organisations.

HUMOR

And now for something politically incorrect.....

The woman applying for a job in a lemon orchard in Country Queensland, seemed to be far too qualified for the job; given her arts and education degrees from Melbourne University and her job as a social worker and a teacher at the local TAFE college. The foreman frowned and said, "I have to ask you this:

"Have you had any actual experience in picking lemons?"

"Well, as a matter of fact, I have! I've been divorced three times, owned an Audi station wagon, a Leyland P76, a Mazda Wagon, also I supported Collingwood the last 4 years, voted for Tony Abbott and bought shares in Dick Smith."

Here's your English lesson for the day:

"Complete" or "Finished"?

No dictionary has ever been able to satisfactorily define the difference between "complete" and "finished."

However, during a recent linguistic conference, held in London, England, and attended by some of the best linguists in the world, Samsundar Balgobin, a Guyanese linguist, was the presenter when he was asked to make that very distinction.

The question put to him by a colleague in the erudite audience was this:

"Some say there is no difference between 'complete' and 'finished.' Please explain the difference in a way that is easy to understand."

Mr. Balgobin's response:

"When you marry the right woman, you are 'complete.' If you marry the wrong woman, you are 'finished.' And, if the right one catches you with the wrong one, you are 'completely finished.'"

His answer received a five minute standing ovation.

HUMOR

And yes, some more!

Two women friends had gone for a girls' night out. Both were very faithful and loving wives, however they had gotten over-enthusiastic with the Bacardi Breezers.

Incredibly drunk and walking home they needed to pee, so they stopped in the cemetery. One of them had nothing to wipe with so she thought she would take off her panties and use them. Her friend however was wearing a rather expensive pair of panties and did not want to ruin them.

She was lucky enough to squat down next to a grave that had a wreath with a ribbon on it, so she proceeded to wipe with that.

After the girls did their business, they proceeded to go home.

The next day, the husband of one of the women was concerned that his normally sweet and innocent wife was still in bed hung over, so he phoned the other husband and said: "These girl nights have got to stop! I'm starting to suspect the worst. My wife came home with no panties!!"

"That's nothing," said the other husband, "Mine came back with a card stuck to her backside that said....."

'From all of us at the Fire Station. We'll never forget you'

Meantime, Merek has shared some interesting video...

This may be one of the "best videos ever" of the ocean with a 3D effect. The clarity is unbelievable. No special glasses or anything needed. Only the people actually living it can most likely see it any clearer.

This is in HD, 3D, I hope your monitor can view it that way.
