President's Report – Hughie Gaynor.

Judging by the very mild and unseasonal sunny autumn that we have all enjoyed, it appears that in recent days, Mother Nature will bring us back to the real world of cooler weather. I have no doubt that change will motivate us all to get into The Shed or better still, down to the Club, and keep warm by creating your wooden masterpieces. At the time of writing we are unable to set a firm date for our Be In It competition, but, set your goal now to start or finish an entry which will inspire your mates to have a go next year.

As you are aware our hard working Secretary Albert Bak recently advised that he would not be seeking re-election at this year's October AGM after 3 years of dedicated service to the Club. We are indeed fortunate that a current Committee member Harry Deschepper put his hand up to take on this important role, and at the last Committee Meeting it was unanimously decided to formalise Harry's offer by nominating him as Secretary Elect.

It is encouraging to formally record the ongoing generosity of members who in recent weeks have gone that extra yard to lend a hand, which has helped make the Club a better place. To save any potential embarrassment to those individuals by naming them we would not have been able to hold our 3rd successful Trivia night recently without their commitment. Whilst such social events require this extra effort, please do not forget those members who toil away on our behalf week in week out on many behind the scenes critical roles as Committee member, keyholders, machinery maintenance, purchasing supplies and equipment, catering requirements and last but certainly not least all those who willingly share their skills and knowledge with members.

At the last Committee Meeting the quote for the installation of the shade sails was approved and assuming that the normal time for planning approval of 5/6 weeks is achieved, it is hoped that the installation will be undertaken in mid to late July, in readiness for Stage 2 installation of the deck.

Another reminder to members attending during the day to be aware of the ongoing activity in the Council area and on the driveway by Contractors' vehicles and or suppliers restoring/demolishing their fire damaged buildings. Unless you are dropping off or picking up materials, parking is restricted to the area outside and adjacent the front entrance. If full there is plenty of space at the football oval.

All (members/family/friends) who attended the May members' Night, were suitably impressed by the excellent First Aid presentation made by James Azzam. As a result of that presentation, opportunity was made by the Club to purchase a new First Aid kit, which is now located outside the Committee Room door next to the phone and defibrillator. If any member wishes to borrow a CD on how to correctly use the defibrillator by following the prompts please ask the Keyholder on the day. Now, Diary Dates. Saturday 11th June from 8am onwards Working Bee at the Club for a general tidy clean up.

Saturday 16th July – Christmas in July -6.30pm for 7.00pm- $20 per head which will be catered for by Club members. For catering purposes it is essential that you get your names and number of attendees in your group up on the whiteboard asap and that full payment is made for all tickets by Friday 8th July. Hughie

Typical questions we get about joining the Club

The many emails/calls we receive enquiring about what is involved in joining the club. Some usual questions are:
 - Can we teach? No. we can't, we are not allowed to. But we share a great lot of experience with fellow members.
 - Are there other lady members? Sure are – we have plenty. Age, gender, occupations and team preferences are of no issue with 'Woodies'. We're just crazy about wood!
 Last count we had 25 fine lady members out of the overall 200 at the club. We've seen a 50% increase in recent years of lady members, when overall growth was 25%.
 - What age groups come? Well, our Secretary has worked out some nice statistics on that. 29% are aged 45-65, 43% are 65-85. We have some younger, and older! So there's a wealth of enthusiasm, and experience here!
 - How do I find out about what the club is like? Drop in on a meeting night (1st WED of the month) or when the club is open, We love showing visitors how to become members! Refer NEWSLETTER last page for open times.

First of all, I have to say a big thank you to all those who attended the meeting last month at Knox Woodies. It was great to see locals gathering for the good of our community. Keep up the great work and I hope to support you in the future. I appreciate the feedback that was given after the First Aid presentation. I loved all your questions and appreciated the discussions during and after the talk. I hope to come back in the future and meet you all once again.

It is great that you have taken on the initiative to incorporate First Aid into your club. I encourage you all to look through the new First Aid kit and familiarise yourselves with the defibrillator you have. As mentioned during the talk, chance of survival drops 10% per minute. Being familiar with equipment means you can save valuable time and increase the patients chance of survival.

Each month I write an article and post it on my webpage. I encourage you to read these articles as they have some valuable information regarding First Aid. The website address is www.dfas.com.au/dfas-discussion. I am always available for questions and discussions, so please do not hesitate to contact me. You may also like to post your questions on our Facebook page which can be found by searching Designer First Aid Solutions. The club member that posts the most interesting question will receive a prize! Remember to like our page to stay up to date with the First Aid world.

I would also like to offer you the promo code "woodies" which can be used online for a 15% discount off products.

Woodies SUGGESTIONS sought as we go to the Cloud!

Members may be intersted in the new website, and computer systems being implemented. Albert's vision with the assistance of Gary, Dick, Eric and now Harry have been working on an approach that will help future committees. PLUS: Michael White has introduced some terrific WIX.com (website development tools) for finally getting underway with the new club website.

We ask Members to comment & offer suggestions for content.
 As development progresses, all can view the website online too!

In the interests of assisting future COMMITTEES to manage the administration of the Club, both at the Club or from home, there has been an initiative to use CLOUD based technology. Information is securely held in three locations, all accessible from any Browser based programs. Synchronised copies are also stored at the Club's computer (local use), and offsite for security.

Two Wifi connections offer: (green) for DVR surveillance and (blue) 'clubwifi' for members phone/laptop internet use as a privileged service. Members who are interested in how this all works, click this link: NETWORK schematic which illustrates the THREE CLOUDS (on right side of the drawing) for the following:

(1) The website, will take all the legacy info from old www.alchester.com.au/kdwc over to knoxwoodies.org.au site. Wheel Back Double Bow Windsor Chair - Part 1. - written by Phil Spencer

I have always wanted to build a Windsor chair and, after reading the book 'Windsor Chair Making' by James Mursell and being given a Windsor Chair flat pack kit by my good friend Jack, it was now or never.

Making the chair presented several challenges for me, things that I had either not tried before or a level of work that put me outside my comfort zone, like steam bending wood and drilling all the compound angled holes in the seat and bows.

Did I want to build an American style chair or an English style chair? After a lot of research and thought I decided on the English style; they look more solid and traditional than the highly stylised American versions and besides that there are several schools around offering courses in making an American style chair.

I went back to my book by James Mursell and visited his web site (<http://windsorchairplans.com>) and ordered a plan for his new Wheel Back Double Bow Windsor chair. I also ordered a Travisher from his shop. A travisher is used to carve out the seat. James was also very helpful answering my emailed questions.

Figure 2: The Wheel Back Double Bow Windsor chair by James Mursell, this is the chair I have chosen to build.

Timber

Typically English Elm is used for the seats of a Windsor chair because the grain is cross linked and offers superior strength; other timbers can be used successfully but there may be a risk of splitting so the shaping of the seat usually has to be left thicker. I used American Ash for the bows and rived Elm for the spindles on the chair and Oak for the legs.

next part in the series coming soon![Phil]

HUMOR - or is this serious ??Lads - pay attention this one is somewhat serious.

Whilst some of the info is gleaned from the USA and British experience's it is not too difficult to note the trends in the land Down Under and of particular current interest relative to the Woodies is Item 8 with new computer systems and all the whiz bang applications in the Clouds.

Whether these changes are good or bad depends in part on how we adapt to them. But, ready or not, here they come.

1. The Post Office.

Get ready to imagine a world without the post office. They are so deeply in financial trouble that there is probably no way to sustain it long term. Email, Fastway, Fed Ex, and UPS have just about wiped out the minimum revenue needed to keep the post office alive. Most of your mail every day is junk mail and bills..

2. The Cheque.

Britain is already laying the groundwork to do away with cheque by 2018. It costs the financial system billions of dollars a year to process cheques. Plastic cards and online transactions will lead to the eventual demise of the cheque. This plays right into the death of the post office. If you never paid your bills by mail and never received them by mail, the post office would absolutely go out of business.

3. The Newspaper.

The younger generation simply doesn't read the newspaper. They certainly don't subscribe to a daily delivered print edition. That may go the way of the milkman, butcher, baker and fruit and veg man. As for reading the paper on-line, get ready to pay for it. The rise in mobile Internet devices and e-readers has caused all the newspaper and magazine publishers to form an alliance. They have met with Apple, Amazon, and the major cell phone companies to develop a model for paid subscription services.

4. The Book

You say you will never give up the physical book that you hold in your hand and turn the literal pages. Many said the same thing about downloading music from iTunes because they wanted hard copy CD. When they discovered they get albums for half the price without ever leaving home to get the latest music they changed their minds. The same thing will happen with books. You can browse a bookstore online and even read a preview chapter before you buy. And the price is less than half that of a real book. Just think of the convenience! Once you start flicking your fingers on the screen instead of the book, you find that you are lost in the story, can't wait to see what happens next, and you forget that you're holding a gadget instead of a book.

5. The Land Line Telephone

Unless you have a large family and make a lot of local calls, you don't need it anymore. Most people keep it simply because they've always had it. But you are paying double charges for that extra service. All the cell phone companies will let you call customers using the same cell provider for no charge against your minutes

6. Music

This is one of the saddest parts of the change story. The music industry is dying a slow death. Not just because of illegal downloading. It's the lack of innovative new music being given a chance to get to the people who would like to hear it. Greed and corruption is the problem. The record labels and the radio conglomerates are simply self-destructing. Over 40% of the music purchased today is "catalogue items," meaning traditional music that the public is familiar with. Older established artists. This is also true on the live concert circuit. To explore this fascinating and disturbing topic further, check out the book, "Appetite for Self-Destruction" by Steve Knopper, and the video documentary, "Before the Music Dies."

7. Television

Revenues to the networks are down dramatically. Not just because of the economy. Many people are watching TV and movies streamed from their computers. And they're playing games and doing lots of other things that take up the time that used to be spent watching TV.

Prime time shows have degenerated down to lower than the lowest common denominator. Cable rates are skyrocketing and commercials run about every 4 minutes and 30 seconds. It's time for the cable companies to be put out of our misery. People will choose what they want to watch online and through Netflix.

8. The "Things" That You Own

Many of the very possessions that we used to own are still in our lives, but we may not actually own them in the future. They may simply reside in "the cloud." Today your computer has a hard drive and you store your pictures, music, movies, and documents. Your software is on a CD or DVD, and you can always re-install it if need be. But all of that is changing. Apple, Microsoft, and Google are all finishing up their latest "cloud services." That means that when you turn on a computer, the Internet will be built into the operating system. So, Windows, Google, and the Mac OS will be tied straight into the Internet. If you click an icon, it will open something in the Internet cloud. If you save something, it will be saved to the cloud. And you may pay a monthly subscription fee to the cloud provider. In this virtual world, you can access your music or your books, or your whatever from any laptop or handheld device. That's the good news. But, will you actually own any of this "stuff" or will it all be able to disappear at any moment in a big "Poof?" Will most of the things in our lives be disposable and whimsical? It makes you want to run to the cupboard and pull out that photo album, grab a book from the shelf, or open up a CD case and pull out the insert.

9. Privacy

If there ever was a concept that we can look back on nostalgically, it would be privacy. That's gone. It's been gone for a long time anyway. There are cameras on the street, in most of the buildings, and even built into your computer and cell phone. But you can be sure that 24/7, "They" know who you are and where you are, right down to the GPS coordinates, and the Google Street View. If you buy something, your habit is put into a zillion profiles, and your ads will change to reflect those habits. "They" will try to get you to buy something else. Again and again.

All we will have left that can't be changed are "Memories".
And then probably Alzheimer's will take that away from you too!

..... nice contribution from Hughie! Thankyou!

HUMORThe Irish Mother-In-Law

The mother-in-law arrives home from shopping to find her son-in-law Paddy, in a steaming rage and hurriedly packing his suitcase. What happened Paddy?" she asks anxiously.

"What happened? I'll tell you what happened! I sent an email to my wife telling her I was coming home today from my fishing trip. I get home ... and guess what I found? Your daughter, my wife, Jean, naked with Joe Murphy in our marital bed! This is unforgivable! The end of our marriage. I'm done.

I'm leaving forever!"

"Ah now, calm down, calm down Paddy!" says his mother-in-law. "There is something very odd going on here. Jean would never do such a thing! There must be a simple explanation. I'll go speak to her immediately and find out what happened.

Moments later, the mother-in-law comes back with a big smile.

"Paddy, there I told you there must be a simple explanation.....

... She never got your email!
