President's Report – Hughie Gaynor.

On behalf of The Club, may I take the opportunity to say a big thank you on behalf of all members, to those who worked so hard at the following 2 functions.

The Working Bee on Saturday 11th April - Apart from a terrific clean up of all areas, other great efforts resulted in the re-discovery of 3 spaces which in the past have been rarely visited.

(1) the removal of the 200 litre drum of wood preservative (Glycol 1000) which had been stored adjacent to the rear door for endless years, was decanted into 20 litre plastic containers and labelled appropriately, and the disposal of other treasures which had been stored under the clubrooms. Please note that if any member wishes to avail themselves of this type of wood preservative for their "special" wood for a future Project feel free to help yourself with a donation to the Club coffers. Although some discolouration is evident in some of the containers caused by the length of time it has been not agitated, I am reliably informed that it will not detract from its preservative properties.

(2) the general tidy up of the area adjacent to the kitchen of our hardware/spare chair storage area, and proper sorting of at least ¾ of the drawers contents, will make life easier for members to find that elusive "what's it" to complete your project.

(3) the reduction of the right hand side of the timber steel racking and disposal of unwanted MDF and chipboard sheets, has provided sufficient area for The Club to construct a secure area for the proper storage of Club's timber. This has been purchased/acquired exclusively for designated Club Projects ONLY – viz Kidz Korner Kits, Special Projects and our annual Christmas Toy Presentation.

The Trivia Night on Saturday 18th April. It was great to see a few more new faces this year, who from all accounts, had a great night. A big thank you for the fantastic outcomes (both socially and funds raised) was a direct result of a number of some of our talented members who pooled their collective resources and experiences gained from our inaugural one last year to make it such a great success. I am happy to report that whilst ALL questions were reasonably fair, my portion of grey matter which is SUPPOSEDLY allocated to recollection/memory was fully taxed and I also expect the same condition also afflicted quite a number of others attending. A number of shots of this great evening on Page 3.

With the warm days of spring and summer combined with daylight saving now becoming a fond memory it is expected that attendances at The Club will progressively increase over the next weeks. To ensure that your creature comforts are up to your expectations in the Clubrooms thereby providing you with no more excuses of cold wet weather, a commercial plastic door has recently been installed on the back door to ensure that the heat stays in. Some members have already suggested that it may be opportune to dust off the indoor bowls and practice getting that elusive right bias operating.

To further enhance conditions in the machine shop and woodturning areas by keeping out sawdust/shavings/autumn leaves from entering (as far as practical) without compromising access and safe use of the ripping table saw, a Meeting has been scheduled with the Manufacturer in May, to jointly develop what options and naturally $ costs that are available.

As I reported in the April Newsletter a number of discussions are still ongoing with Council Departments to seek resolution of the issues that were listed. Whilst some progress has been made I expect that final resolution will take some more time. Perhaps that old saying of "GOOD THINGS COME TO THOSE WHO WAIT" may have a "certain woody" ring to it. However I expect that a great win/win of improvements for both Council staff and The Woodies who share this site, will be the outcome.

FINALLY , A COUPLE OF FUTURE IMPORTANT DIARY DATES. Christmas in July in the Clubrooms – Saturday 11th July.

Another first – A couple of members who just happen to be professional chefs (unlike the TV want to be's) tossed around the idea around of " We could do a dinner in the Clubrooms for members and friends" and have taken the opportunity to do it ASAP hence the July function. I would expect that it will be a "first in – best dressed" to book your tickets with Karen Button. See promo for this event on Pg 2.

"BE IN IT" COMPETITION – DATE TO BE CONFIRMED (AUG).

Whilst I cannot give a firm date for this annual event due to the number of complexities of our adjacent neighbours, Ferntree Gully Football Club, who generally host finals football, please take note that your time to complete your entry is now in weeks. I expect that as this year's event will be our 25th it will certainly be a special one and an increase in entries is expected.

Equipment for sale by TENDER

There are some remaining TOOLS from the Estate of a late Member: Bruce Allen, on inspection in the lunchroom area.

Normal process is to lodge a SUBMISSION to the committee, putting your name and best offered price in an envelope in MAIL SHUTE by the club doorway.

Driving/Parking SAFETY TIP - TURN LEFT!

The members were discussing the plans ahead for the front nature strip last meeting. But a good thought was presented, which is worth sharing. When driving/exiting from the Club onto the the busy Glenfern Rd, particularly at peak hour, consider doing a few LEFT TURNS to reach your destination. It's not that far up to the round-about and then down to the Burwood Rd lights at Woolworths.

Last meeting, a Google+ Flyer was presented, where we have the opportunity to put the CLUB onto Google Maps/Search pages along with something personalised. ie: Opening hours, phone, address, and some pictures of what we do. So a draft has been put up to get the ball rolling whilst the activation code was still valid.

If you do a Google Browser search (or on a smart phone using the Red APP: Google+), for the words: "Knox & District Woodworkers Club", you see a heap of landing pages suggested, but NOW, we also get to see the MAP of where we are, and some other pictures to entice new members.

A dozen odd photos are up there to show off the premises, members, facilities and examples of work we do. Feel free to critique, add, amend etc etc.... This will all link back to the new website, our email, phone and so forth for people keeping in touch, using social media.

...Any suggestions for additions, always ask/offer!

Working Bee - almost a total success!

Whilst not a total solution to the Magpie problem, it's at least a start. Here's our beloved Treasurer attempting to hijack the skip during the April Working Bee.

Despite the efforts of other Club Members, Serge Meilak was able to effect an escape before we were able to get the padlock on! [Pic: Courtesy of: Lindsay Horsley]

Talking of MAGPIE problems!

Our long time member: Bill Ireland celebrated his birthday on Anzac Day.

He says: "... the best present was the win by Collingwood. (sorry Eric!)"

Workshop Activities – NEW ROUTERS for the Club

Dick Webb has purchased two new TRITON ROUTERS, not here yet, but will be in the coming week. A notice will be put on the wall, but is shown here to better help Members. There are no spare parts available for Triton & most other brands as well. So if they bust a collet the router is finished. It has happened on the last new router.

These routers have a double locking system.

To release router bit:

unlock collet with spanner turn approx. 180 deg.

And unlock again.

This will release the bit.

They also have ¼ inch & ½ inch collets.

FAILURE TO DO THIS CAN RESULT IN DISTRUCTION OF COLLET, WHICH ARE NOT POSSIBLE TO BUY.

Good tip, Dick! Many of us have these at home. [...Ed]

Take a closer look at your MONOPOLY Board!

With ANZAC DAY still in all our minds, Hurtle Lupton has shared an amazingly ingenious tactic from WW2 that fits the technical category of this page. This is very Interesting...

You'll never look at the game the same way again!

Starting in 1941, an increasing number of British Airmen found themselves as the involuntary guests of the Third Reich, and the Crown was casting about for ways and means to facilitate their escape...

Now obviously, one of the most helpful aids to that end is a useful and accurate map, one showing not only where stuff was, but also showing the locations of 'safe houses' where a POW on-the-lam could go for food and shelter.

Paper maps had some real drawbacks -- they make a lot of noise when you open and fold them, they wear out rapidly, and if they get wet, they turn into mush.

Someone in MI-5 (similar to America 's OSS) got the idea of printing escape maps on silk. It's durable, can be scrunched-up into tiny wads, and unfolded as many times as needed, and makes no noise whatsoever.

At that time, there was only one manufacturer in Great Britain that had perfected the technology of printing on silk, and that was John Waddington, Leeds. When approached by the government, the firm was only too happy to do its bit for the war effort.

By pure coincidence, Waddington was also the U.K. Licensee for the popular American board game, Monopoly. As it happened, 'games and pastimes' was a category of item qualified for insertion into 'CARE packages', dispatched by the International Red Cross to prisoners of war.

Under the strictest of secrecy, in a securely guarded and inaccessible old workshop on the grounds of Waddington's, a group of sworn-to-secrecy employees began mass-producing escape maps, keyed to each region of Germany or Italy where Allied POW camps were regional system). When processed, these maps could be folded into such tiny dots that they would actually fit inside a Monopoly playing piece.

As long as they were at it, the clever workmen at Waddington's also managed to add:

1. A playing token, containing a small magnetic compass
2. A two-part metal file that could easily be screwed together
3. Useful amounts of genuine high-denomination German, Italian, and French currency, hidden within the piles of Monopoly money!

British and American air crews were advised, before taking off on their first mission, how to identify a 'rigged' Monopoly set -- by means of a tiny red dot, one cleverly rigged to look like an ordinary printing glitch, located in the corner of the Free Parking square.

Of the estimated 35,000 Allied POWS who successfully escaped, an estimated one-third were aided in their flight by the rigged Monopoly sets. Everyone who did so was sworn to secrecy indefinitely, since the British Government might want to use this highly successful ruse in still another, future war.

The story wasn't declassified until 2007, when the surviving craftsmen from Waddington's, as well as the firm itself, were finally honoured in a public ceremony.

It's always nice when you can play that 'Get Out of Jail' Free' card!

"I realize most of you are (probably) too young to have any personal connection to WWII (Sept '39 to Aug. '45), but this is still interesting."

Nice story, well shared, Hurtle! Thanks. [...Ed]

Another Senior Moment:

And one for all cultures:

The Italian Lover, a virile middle aged Italian gentlemen named Giuseppe, was relaxing at his favourite bar in Rome, when he managed to attract a spectacular and very attractive young blond woman.

Things progressed to the point where he led her back to his apartment and, after some small talk, they retired to his bedroom where he rattled her senseless.

After a pleasant interlude he asked, smiling, "So, you finish?" She paused for a second, frowned, and replied, "No." Surprised, Giuseppe reached for her and the rattling resumed.

This time she thrashed about wildly and there were screams of passion. The sex finally ended and, again, Giuseppe smiled and asked, "You finish?"

Again, after a short pause, she returned his smile, cuddled closer to him and softly said, "No."

Stunned, but determined he was going to leave this woman unsatisfied, Giuseppe reached for the woman yet again.

Using the last of his strength, he barely managed it, but they ended together screaming, bucking, clawing and ripping the bed sheets. Exhausted, Giuseppe fell onto his back, gasping. Barely able to turn his head, he looked into her eyes, smiled proudly and asked again, "You finish?"

Barely able to speak, the beautiful blonde whispered in his ear ... "No, I Norwegian."

Thanks, Hughie for the slaps'n'giggles contributions ...[Ed]
