President's Report – Hughie Gaynor.

I hope that you are busy making/developing/finishing your particular wooden article for the Be-In-It competition which is your antidote to surviving the current chills. As advertised last month please note that entries will be received at the Clubrooms on Friday 19th August between 6.30 to 8.30pm and on Saturday morning 20th August from 9.30am to Noon ONLY.

The Clubrooms will be open for members and friends on Sunday at 2.30pm for viewing of entries with afternoon tea followed by presentation of certificates at 4.00pm. Just in case you think that your article may not be good enough please remember that it may just be the spark that will encourage other members to have a go.

A full list of the categories is on Page 3 and finally if you could bring some afternoon tea to share it will be greatly appreciated. With the expected large number of people attending, just remember that there is plenty of parking available at the Footy oval next door.

The next Working Bee will be held on Saturday 13th August to ensure that we have the Clubrooms and surrounds spick and span for the Be In It competition. In addition, we have also organised a free healthy work out for those who are able and willing by bringing their own shovel/rake as we will have 2 metres of crushed rock available for spreading.

It is expected that Stage 1 of our "Al Fresco area" will happen this month with the erection of the poles and shade sails by the successful specialist firm Pumpkin Joe.

The former old PC has now been made available in the Library Area for use by members who wish to surf the net looking for all interesting things wood – login username "Members" with the same password, which is "Members".

As you all would be aware the AGM will be held on Wednesday 5th October and one important issue conducted is the election of Office bearers to take us forward into 2017. That old saying "many hands make light work" applies, and I urge any member who may wish to help out, to have a talk with any Committee member and arrange to fill in a nomination form. Other than helping out the Club in a role that suits your skill set, the only other requirement is to attend a Committee Meeting once a month.

Finally, on behalf of the Club may I extend a more formal big big thank you to all members/wives/friends/relatives who helped out in so many ways to make our recent Christmas in July function (16th July) such a huge success.

..... Hughie

Equipment FOR SALE by TENDER
 *** Nothing this month ***
 Normal process is to lodge SUBMISSION to the committee, putting your name and best offered price in an envelope in MAIL SHUTE by the club doorway.

More hands make light work of SATURDAY ROSTER
 Make a point of keeping the job easy for our Saturday helpers: Phil Dunstan, Dick Webb, Rod Williams and Ladislav Toman.

*** New HELP NEEDED PLEASE *****

After many years of tremendous assistance by Larry Bearman, he has need to pass the key onto another helpful member that might be able to provide us with Saturday access to the Club about 8 times a year. Any member who could step up to the mark to help us, starting from September, it would help if you contact Committee.

Typical questions we get about joining the Club

The many emails/calls we receive enquiring about what is involved in joining the club. Some usual questions are:

- Can we teach? No. we can't, we are not allowed to. But we share a great lot of experience with fellow members.
- Are there other lady members? Sure are – we have plenty. Age, gender, occupations and team preferences are of no issue with 'Woodies'. We're just crazy about wood! Last count we had 25 fine lady members out of the overall 200 at the club. We've seen a 50% increase in recent years of lady members, when overall growth was 25%.
- What age groups come? Well, our Secretary has worked out some nice statistics on that. 29% are aged 45-65, 43% are 65-85. We have some younger, and older! So there's a wealth of enthusiasm, and experience here!
- How do I find out about what the club is like? Drop in on a meeting night (1st WED of the month 7:15PM) or when the club is open, We love showing visitors how to become members! Refer NEWSLETTER last page for open times.
- How much does it cost, and when do we meet? Latest Joining fee/membership fees are on website. Presently (2015-16) $75 pa, and a one time $50 joining fee

TOY COUNT for XMAS Presentations: Jule count:362!
(Including 50 sent overseas)
Let's have another terrific outcome for the 2016 Xmas. Toy Making and preparing kits for Kidz Korner, is great for 'those looking to practice their new skills' at woodworking.

Also, worthy to note, is that the Toys Group have also prepared shipments of toys to South Africa.

Keep in mind if you've a spare few moments! ...Ed.

Shadow Board gets a spruce up by Brian!

Brian Bracegirdle has been busy in the main clubrooms putting some really nice finishing touches to the Tool Shadow Board. Nice color, and nice finish, Brian!

There are always projects like this going on around the Club, some that are managed through the Project Manager: Eric Butterfield, and others like this one, that just get done by keen members offering a great hand to make the Club a better place for all to enjoy.

By the looks of Brian's paint job, "Jacko" better watch out – there's artistic competition heading your way!

Thanks to Karen Button for this roving reporter happy snap!

Wheel Back Double Bow Windsor Chair

– Part 3. - written by Phil Spencer

(This article follows on Part 1: June, Part 2 in July)

Making the chair

I started out making the seat, I milled the Elm to thickness on my Woodwork clubs thicknesser (it was larger than mine and able to handle the width). Marked out the shape of the base with the template I had made up from the drawings from the Windsor Workshop. and then proceeded to mark up the holes and tenon for the splat at the back of the chair.

It was at this stage I realised that I had one more tool to make up to help drill the compound angled holes in the seat, I needed to make up a tilting table for my drill. This is a simple device, two pieces of scrap MDF were hinged together, the bottom piece was bolted to the table on the drill and blocks used as a sliding packing to get the top table to the required angle.

This allowed me to set the angle of the hole I needed to drill and also move to seat around to line up the sight lines to get the angle accurate.

Note: The leg holes were drilled from one side of the seat whilst the arm hole was drilled from the other side.

The only holes left to drill were the holes for the arm spindles, these had to be drilled because the holes in the underside of the arm are blind so there is no way to get them lined up using line of sight like the holes for the back spindles.

The mortise for the splat is cut at 14° this is the slope of the back of the seat, the arm bow will be clamped to it when the holes for the back spindles are drilled by line of sight.

Figure 3 All the compound angled holes that can be pre drilled, these holes hold the spindles that hold the arm up they have been pre-drilled because the holes in the arm are blind. Also the mortise for the back splat has been cut at 14 deg.

Carving the seat

Before starting to carve out the seat I suggest that you do a few push-ups and have a good breakfast, pulling the Scorp is hard work and your shoulders will be sore for a few days after.

I thought carving the seat might be a challenge, the scorp took a little getting used to whilst the Travisher worked brilliantly, before I started to hog out the waste from the seat I drilled a series of blind holes to indicate the depth I wanted the seat to be, so I would not inadvertently go through the bottom of seat and, also to leave sufficient wood for strength.

The shaping of the seat was straight forward, I suggest that to help with the carving process imagining your favourite bottom to help to get the right shape!

Fourth part in the series coming soon! ....[Phil]

Hidden skills of fellow Woodies – a reflection.....

Most Woodies, I would propose, are innovative, creative and passionate people who really enjoy and collaborate about the enjoyment they have from woodwork projects. They are people who analyse, perfect and produce something that is satisfying and proud to display. Such a work ethic and attitude tends to separate people, like Woodies, from others. So at KDWC, we have 200+ such members of this 'trait'.

And, with a tally of some 12000+ years of experience between them, in all manner of pursuits in life, not just woodworking, one would have to get curious about the background, upbringing, and life experiences that have brought such people together at KDWC.

Having been in this club, not quite as long as our respected Foundation members, but close to, I am forever amazed, in fact surprised, by some of the paths that fellow Members have travelled in their lives, leading up to then standing and holding the other end of a 4x2 to put through the thicknesser in the workshop.

We have butchers who have become chocolateers with engineering skills second to none, members who've made Australia home, and experienced the Outback as pioneers of this land, skills in Dam building overseas, jet pilots from the '50s, business people, skilled craftsman, professionals of all manner of industry, politics, learning, and social contribution. And, they join us for a sideline passion and hobby to probably make a welcomed change from those activities.

So, without suggesting anybody risk divulging a skill that will open them up to being asked to join a committee position or volunteer with a skill that the Club needs, I'd like to make the observation about how INTERESTING it is to be within the company of so many Members with such diverse backgrounds. Yet, how unfortunate it is, that we too often learn of such skills and opportunities to gain from fellow member experiences, until it is after they have passed on or away.

So let us learn from fellow member "Jim" of such opportunities.

... [Ed]

VALE – James "Jim" Lobley

James "Jim" Lobley 8th June 1940 to 21st July 2016

A packed house at Le Pines saw "Jim" have a find send off, with his Siblings, colleagues, ex Defence Force acquaintances, and members of Clubs and Associations he mixed with over many years.

The one message that came out loud and clear from all who had the privilege of knowing Jim, was that he was a "Thinker" and "Gentleman".

Jim's absolute attention to detail and ensuring things were done right, extended to all manner of interests and job careers he held.

At the KDWC we've seen his skills as a carver, often demonstrated. Coupling his interest in all things historical, mathematical and logical, the work he undertook to carve the Egyptian ATEN characters (right) were surrounding Jim at the funeral for all to admire one more time.

But it was when we spoke to people who had first hand dealings over the years with Jim, that the true character of this man presented a passionate, committed, and helpful person. He was a 'quiet achiever, a humble man, but a man with talent ready to share. Joe Semenow recalls the time when the rocking horse group was in need of support with the huge task facing them each year to build three horses. Jim was the one who stepped up to the plate and not only helped, but contributed with improved methods and techniques, sharing his knowledge and adding tremendous value to that well known activity group. Others spoke of his anonymous generosity.

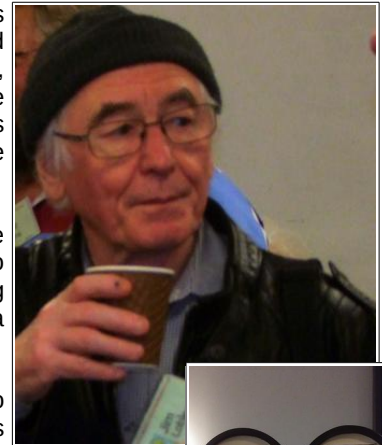

Talking with members of Jim's MicroBee computer group founded in the early 1980's where Jim managed the treasurer position for over 650 members on a card system. His attention to detail again and undertaking of the task for many many years, without question and with dutiful accuracy – again the sign of a man with a perfectionist style.

Like so many ex Vietnam Vets, Jim kept that part of his life little known to only the closest he dealt with, but had made Jim a stronger man and a worldly travelled man from that engagement.

Jim left everything well under control, in order, and as he would have liked. And so we salute and will remember Jim, as a fine contributing member to all who had the pleasure of his wit, knowledge, skill and contributions.

Rest well Jim!

..thanks for all contributions to Bill's column!

KDWC to be part of "Macca" advertisement

The club had a visitor on 12th July promoting a new tool, by "Macca" - from the TV show: "What's Up Down Under".

Stay tuned for when this hits the airways, as some of our less than handsome members signed up as celebrity co-stars for the short 'shoot' that took place in the workshop.

Unfortunately, no showbiz royalties will be forthcoming!

Putting Barrels to good use!

A recent trip up to the Rutherglen area, ended up with a visit to a barrel making firm, which makes really nice, and useful products from Wood!

Here's a 10L OAK job ready for prepaing some nice tawny port for the years to come.

It was good to see some products like this being made commercially here in Oz!

HUMOR

The original patent from 1891 for a toilet paper roll shows the correct rolling direction, in case you ever doubted.

AmazingJokes.com
Thanks Merek! I'll bear that in mind when the need arises!

The following just proves that the polities are slow learners.

"The Budget should be balanced, the Treasury should be refilled, public debt should be reduced, the arrogance of officialdom should be tempered and controlled, and the assistance to foreign lands should be curtailed, lest we become bankrupt. People must again learn to work, instead of living on public assistance."
Cicero, 55 BC

So, evidently we've learned bugger all over the past 2,071 years.

Is this really the best present for father's day?

HUMOR

Well, as "Woodies", at least our mob would get a chance at the job!

.....thanks for all contributions to the HUMOR column!

Ladislav sorts out the ONE PIECE of WOOD Puzzle

Some time back, the monthly meeting threw down a challenge of how to make a wooden inge from a SINGLE plank of wood.

Well, congratulations to Ladislav Toman for solving the puzzle and presenting a fine solution last month.

The exmapple shown started as one single plank of wood, and becomes 'hinged' without the resulting solution parting company.

Intrigued members will just have to ask Ladislav about how he did it!

Annoying isn't it!
